THE ESPORTS TRAINING NETWORK

Esports Academy Network: The global network advancing the esports ecosystem through certified training, strategic partnerships, and continuous innovation.

The Esports Academy Network (EAN), led by Independent Electronic Sports (IES), is an international network dedicated to fostering the growth and professionalization of esports through education, technological advancement, and global partnerships.

Training for Athletes and Professionals

EAN is committed to preparing athletes, technicians, and industry professionals through modular and certified courses tailored to meet the demands of international competitions and prestigious tournaments, including the Esports Olympics.

Collaboration with National Esports Federations

We work alongside recognized National Esports Federations to establish shared training standards and support the local and international growth of esports.

Support for Training Companies

EAN provides specialized training organizations with accreditation and resources to enhance the quality of their programs, contributing to high-caliber education within the esports sector.

Strategic Partnerships

We collaborate with research institutions, technology partners, sponsors, and government bodies to develop innovative educational tools and projects, supporting the growth and sustainability of the esports industry.

In essence, EAN represents a global platform of excellence in esports training and professional growth, dedicated to creating a competitive and sustainable ecosystem.

Together, let's build the future of esports.

- Modular training for athletes and technicians
- Recognized esports certifications
- Collaborations with federations and strategic partners
- International events and projects
- Global development of the esports sector
